

Angela C. Buffington, M.S.

102 Quail Bluff Lane, Aledo, Texas 76008• Phone: 817.304.6156
E-Mail: a.buffington@tcu.edu

May 14, 2013

To Whom It May Concern:

It has come to my attention that Fort Worth Montessori School, managed and owned by Tsianina Beardsley, needs to expand into a larger building. As a parent of two children who have benefitted from pre-school education at Fort Worth Montessori, it is a pleasure to share how FWMS has impacted the children of southwest Fort Worth.

Fort Worth Montessori was taken over by a parent/ educator who understands how Montessori education could better prepare children to be well-rounded life-learners. With a passion for children, Tsianina Beardsley and her team work tirelessly to lay a firm foundation for learning life skills, foreign language, art, computers, music, body movement, in addition to communicating and understanding through speech, reading, writing, mathematics, and science.

The teachers of Fort Worth Montessori know the needs of each child, and work to guide them toward improving personal skills, as they develop natural interests, and still are stretched into new areas. My children came to Fort Worth Montessori as 3-4 four year olds with some knowledge of colors, shapes, numbers, and letters. Upon exiting Fort Worth Montessori my children had the basics of mathematics, reading, and had developed an appreciation and foundational understanding of music, computers, Chinese, and Spanish. Their teachers were professional, caring, patient, guiding, seeking the best interest of the child, and moving them markedly toward school preparation. Upon leaving Fort Worth Montessori both of my children tested exceptionally high on entrance exams to private preparatory schools in the Fort Worth area, and have moved through early elementary well-prepared, not only to flourish, but to excel.

Without hesitation I recommend Fort Worth Montessori School to other parents. The curriculum and teachers, under the direction of Tsianina Beardsley, have filled a pre-prep-school education need in southwest Fort Worth. FWMS provides a safe, encouraging Montessori education environment that allows children to become life-learners.

Please feel free to contact me, I welcome the opportunity to support Tsianina Beardsley and the Fort Worth Montessori School in their efforts to expand and meet the needs of additional children.

Sincerely,

Angela C. Buffington, M.S., Adjunct Instructor

Texas Christian University, Andrews Institute of Mathematics and Science Education